MIDWAY REPORTS NO CHANGE CONDITIONS

There has been no change in conlitions generally at the Tonopah Midway mine, according to W. J. Dongass, superintendent of operations. Development is still going forward n the driving of crosscuts from the 1530 level, with occasional bunches of mineralized quartz being encountered. Leasers working through the old shaft are sending forth the usual tonnage, but in view of the reduced milling charges it is believed that the output will be increased within the near future.
